

Chief Executive Officer

Habitat for Humanity Australia

- Significant leadership opportunity
- Prominent provider of shelter-based solutions
- Exceptional individual sought

Habitat for Humanity Australia (HFHA), part of the world-wide Habitat for Humanity group, is a not for profit, aid and development organisation founded on Christian principles which reduces poverty by providing safe, secure shelter-based solutions. HFHA works in partnership with Australian communities and a number of countries across Asia-Pacific to address housing poverty and support integrated community development. In Australia, HFHA works in partnership with five state based affiliates that work at a community development level to assist low-income households to achieve home-ownership, improve their current home to make it more livable or recover from a disaster such as fire or flood.

The Board and Chair of Habitat for Humanity Australia are seeking to appoint a new Chief Executive Officer. Key objectives for the CEO include growing the organisation's $5.5M annual turnover; reducing housing poverty through integrated community development programs in communities in Australia and the Asia Pacific, growing gifts and grants from individual and organisational supporters and enhancing the public profile of HFHA to secure new supporters and volunteers. The CEO leads a team of more than 20 staff and is expected to inspire and motivate organisational excellence to achieve HFHA goals, and through building strong, positive and enduring stakeholder, volunteer and partner relationships.

High calibre candidates will have experience in a senior leadership position in a complex organisational setting, preferably in the not for profit sector. They will demonstrate strong people leadership skills and be able to inspire and develop diverse and geographically dispersed teams. A demonstrated track record in leading change, building business and growing revenue and high level financial and strategic planning / reporting skills are important. Proven communication and presentation skills are key, as is the ability to develop strong and influential relationships within the sector. Importantly, the right individual will have a values base in line with HFHA's Christian intrinsic vision, Mission and values and be sensitive to cross-cultural communication. Knowledge of Aid and Development related issues is desirable.

The role is based in Sydney with a competitive remuneration package.
