We are recruiting another group to start in August

Who are Habitat Women?

We offer a bespoke program where our team creates employment pathways for women. We provide training, paid work experience and link women to further training and employment in the building industry.

We also provide development and support with pre-employment skills such as teamwork, career path assistance, resume and interview preparation.

Who can join our team?

Women who identify with, or have experienced, one or more of the following:

- over 18,
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders,
- unemployment,
- discrimination,
- an environment of domestic or family violence,
- limited family or community connections
- seeking support and help through benefits

And we welcome you if you are:

- interested in the building & construction industry
- enthusiastic and prepared to 'have a go'

no experience is necessary!

What does a participant's journey look like?

- 6-month program with like-minded women
- Supportive environment and culture
- Paid 10-15 hours work experience per week in Parramatta and surrounding regions
- Workshops for use of tools and building skills
- Visits to construction projects
- Talking & engaging with women in the industry
- One on one careers advice

What can you achieve?

- Finding work in an industry that is interesting, dynamic, with broad and diverse opportunities
- Joining one of Australia's strongest industries, and an industry that is investing time and resources into expanding opportunities for women to contribute to the industry.
